A Big Fire Raging in the Texas Oil Fields in Which Great Damage Is Wrought.

LOUISVILLE CONTEST IS LEGAL

LATEST FROM THE REVOLUTION.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Secretary of the Navy Moody this morning said that he had received a cablegram from Commander Potter, of the Ranger: "Panama received a cipher message this morning saying that the revolutionists are near the railroad lines. Situation serious. Transit across the isthmus open. Potter."

STUPENDOUS FIRE.

Beaumont, Tex., Sept. 12.—The fire which broke out last night in the oil fields near Gladys, Tex., is still raging. At Higgins 37,000 barrel tank is burning. The Woods gusher is shooting a flame 50 feet high, and gas escaping from other wells is burning. The fire has been confined to the Keith-Ward traction, of which all the tanks have burned. The loss thus far is estimated at $100,000.

TAX INSURANCE CASES.

Frankfort, Sept. 12.—The session of the Franklin circuit court is today being held in the appellate court room at the capitol, where Judge Cantrill is hearing an argument on whether fire insurance companies are liable or not for taxes under the new franchise tax law.

CANNOT BE ENJOINED.

Louisville, Sept. 12.—The Southern Athletic club has an opinion from two of the most eminent lawyers of the city, in which it is strongly stated that the Corbett-McGovern contest to take place in Louisville is clearly within the law, and cannot be enjoined.

NOVEL METHOD OF STEALING.

THREE MEN IMPERSONATE EXPRESS EMPLOYEES AND SECURE GOODS WORTH $25,000.

New York, Sept. 12.—City detectives have arrested three men on the charge of impersonating express company employees. It is alleged the prisoners have been operating nearly a year and have secured property valued at $25,000. One of them formerly worked for an express company. With two partners he obtained hat plates and properly clothed and armed with a shipping book walked about town until an express call card was seen hanging before a store. There was no difficulty then in obtaining the package of merchandise which was to be shipped.

Officer James Collins Reconsiders His Resignation as Chief.

The Commissioners Last Night Decided That Accused Officers Were Not Drunk.

BOTH WERE ACQUITTED

Chief of Police James Collins, as forecast in yesterday's paper, will remain chief, his resignation having been withdrawn last night at a meeting of the police commissioners. Chief Collins has his private business to look after and did not like the reports that some persons had been circulating that the commissioners had created the position to give him a place at the pie counter.

Chief Collins said last night that he did not need the place to live, and did not care to hold it. The commissioners and numberless friends had during the day insisted that he reconsider, however, and the result was that he consented to serve, at least until the first of the year.

One of the commissioners said today that the report that Chief Collins had been put in as a pensioner was absurd. "I believe in keeping a man in office as long as he does the work in a satisfactory manner, and no one else can do it better," declared the commissioner. "I don't care if it is a thousand years. Some people say that the position ought to have been given to someone else because Chief Collins has been in public service so long but that is all foolishness. I believe in keeping a man in office who does the work well, and as long as he does it well. If anyone can do it better than Jim Collins, I'd like to see him."

The police of the city seem to be pleased with the termination of the affair, as they all like to work under Chief Collins, although Captain Bailey is equally as popular and would have made a good chief. It is still Chief Collins.

The only other matter considered by the commissioners last night was the charges of drunkenness preferred against Officers Enoch Linn and L. B. Whitehurst last Friday night by Mr. W. A. Dishon. A number of witnesses were introduced, and the preponderance of evidence was strongly in favor of the officers. Two or three testified that in their opinion the officers were drunk, but the officers themselves testified that they were not, and had an abundance of proof to show that they were not, and that Mr. Dishon was mistaken.

Mr. Dishon, his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Holloway, and the latter's husband testified against the officers, three saying that they were drunk.

Captain Henry Bailey, Assistant Lockup Keeper Joe Potter, Wm. Baker and H. O. Farnham testified that the officers were not drunk when they saw them, and the officers themselves swore they were not drunk. Officer Whitehurst swearing that he had not even taken a drink since his illness several weeks ago.

Mrs. E. E. Holt testified that Dishon was drunk and struck the officer after insulting him, while Chief Collins, Lieutenant Moore, Eugene Edwards and James Edwards, Owen Donegan, Charles Collins and Dave Levy testified that they saw the officers on the afternoon in question, and that they were not drunk.

The verdict of the board was: "We, the police and fire commissioners, after hearing the evidence in the case of charges preferred against Policemen E. E. Linn and L. B. Whitehurst by

BILL POSTERS.

STATE MEETING AT OWENS-BORO IS NOW OVER.

Mr. Will Utterback has returned from Owensboro, where he attended a meeting of the Kentucky Bill Posters' Association. President Bryan and Secretary Bernhard, of the National Association, were in attendance.

The purpose of the meeting was to adopt by-laws, which was done.

The controversy between Paducah and Henderson over which was entitled to the bill posting in Madisonville was settled in favor of Henderson.

ENGAGEMENT CLOSES

TOMORROW.

"All a Mistake" pleased a large crowd at The Kentucky last night, and the Anna Marvin Stock Co. added to its laurels. The work was fine, and the comedy of highest class. The specialties were up to the standard, which is saying a great deal. Tomorrow night the engagement closes.

IT IS A FACT

That the money goes, we know not how. It is also a fact that a savings fund grows in a most surprising manner. Save a little money every day and put it in a bank at interest and you will be agreeably surprised at the way the pile will grow. Now the best way to save money and form the habit is to get one of our Home Savings banks and it comes easy.

Try it for a few months and see if we are not correct.

HOO HOOS AT WORLD'S FAIR.

CONVENTION DECIDES TO ERECT BUILDING ON THE GROUNDS.

Milwaukee, Wis., September 12—In the Hoo Hoo convention today it was unanimously decided to erect a house of Hoo Hoo on the world's fair grounds in St. Louis in 1904. The house will be open to all Hoo Hoos and those eligible to membership in the order. The order of Hoo Hoo will not erect the building, but stock will be sold at $9.99 a share. Today one of the members of the order, away in Southwestern Texas, wired in for 150 shares. Orders also came from Canada and all parts of the United States.

The plans for the proposed building were drawn by F. C. Bonsack of St. Louis. The general plan of the building will be of the letter "H." The style of the exterior design will be of the Spanish Renaissance. On the second floor will be located the assembly hall, which will have a seating capacity of 700. It will be used for Hoo Hoo concatenations, lumbermen's conventions and the Hoo Hoo convention of 1904 will be held there. Surrounding the building will be flower gardens with spaces for chairs and tables. Lumbermen all over the country are enthusiastic over the proposed club building. The erection will cost $100,000.

The interior of the building will be decorated by various lumber companies though the country. One room will be finished in the finest white pine, another in oak, one in maple, and so on. The lumber will be the finest possible to get, and when the building is completed it will be the handsomest on the grounds.

IN POLICE COURT.

ONLY A FEW CASES ON THE DOCKET THIS MORNING.

Ed Vasseur and Florence Ward were charged with a breach of the peace. Vasseur was fined $5 and costs and judgment suspended during his good behavior, and he was recognized to be of good behavior for twelve months.

J. DeGraw and W. M. Francis, for sleeping in a box car, were dismissed.

A Jersey heifer was tried, convicted and sentenced to be sold tomorrow morning.

NO STRIKE.

THE LINEMEN HERE WILL PROBABLY DO NOTHING.

The report that the linemen on the Cumberland Telephone company would strike is discredited here. Supt. Joynes, the local manager of the company, said that there are few linemen here at present, and they have no union. The company has its work pretty well up, and could get along about as well without them as with them during the greater part of the fall and winter.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

MARCONI CLAIMS HE HAS SOLVED THE PROBLEM.

Rome, Sept. 12—Marconi, in an interview published here, declares he has completely solved the problem of sending wireless messages over a distance of more than 1,500 miles, and that he is confident that communication between Europe and America will be established in the immediate future. He is to visit King Emmanuel at Ragoonigi, Piedmont, September 14.

A BAD FLY.

New York, Sept. 12—Bitten by a fly two weeks ago, George Lindhurst, of Brooklyn, is dead. The physicians pronounce it an extraordinary case.

Lindhurst was bitten on the thumb of his right hand. Three days later swelling began, and it spread rapidly. The doctors declared the fly bite had caused blood poisoning, which they could not check, and the victim died in great agony.

Lindhurst was 56 years old and in fairly good health before he was bitten.

TURKEY IS ALARMED.

SULTAN FURIOUS OVER THE PRESENCE OF MANY FOREIGN WARSHIPS.

Constantinople, Sept. 9, via Plovdiv, Sept. 12—Turkey's chronic nervousness with regard to the intentions of the powers is aggravated at present by the approaching demonstrations of unusually large foreign fleets in Ottoman waters. The sultan refuses to be comforted by the assurance that these visits are of a friendly character.

Around the island of Lemnos lies a British fleet of fifty warships, which before the end of the month will be increased to ninety-seven vessels, for the purpose of taking part in the annual Mediterranean maneuvers. No such gathering of British men-of-war has been in the Mediterranean since the Crimean war.

In Besika bay, outside the Dardanelles, the Italian fleet lingers, while a flotilla of Russian torpedo boats is daily expected in the Bosphorus. According to a treaty the czar's vessels are prohibited from sailing through the Bosphorus. The Russian admiral intends to anchor in the bay about a mile above the forts guarding the entrance. The Turks are furious, but powerless.

ELOPED TO METROPOLIS.

Miss Edna Clements, of the county and Mr. C. W. Page, of the city, eloped to Metropolis yesterday and were married by Rev. Atwell. The bride resides on the Mayfield road, and came to the city ostensibly to visit friends. She and the young man took the Cowling in the afternoon and were married upon their arrival, returning last night. He is an attache of the Buchanan restaurant.

AMONG STRANGERS.

DAN DOUGLAS WAS WELL KNOWN IN HIS HOME TOWN.

The Monticello, Ind., Herald says of Dan Douglas, the circus man found dead in the Wallace show band wagon last Friday and shipped to Monticello:

"A telegram was received by Marshal E. P. Roberts Friday from the coroner at Paducah, Ky., stating that Daniel Douglass was dead and asking what disposition should be made of his remains. A. A. Douglass immediately wired back to have the body embalmed and sent here for burial. The other relatives were immediately notified of his death. The remains of the unfortunate young man arrived here Sunday morning and were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McElhoes north of town, with whom he had made his home for years. The funeral services were conducted at the McElhoes home Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. H. Dodd and interment made in the Monticello cemetery.

"Daniel Douglass was the youngest child of Robert and Sallie Douglass and was born in Logansport November 1, 1875. His mother died when he was 5 years old and he was raised by his grandfather, A. S. McElhoes. He leaves a father and a brother, Amer, of La Junta, Colo., and many other relatives. His brother was unable to be present at the funeral. The deceased was a quiet, orderly young man and well respected by all who knew him."

After the muster there will be banquet, and a good time is anticipated.

RAISED FROM THE DEAD

C. W. DEATH AT CADIZ.

Mrs. Crenshaw Clark, wife of Elder Roger Clark, of Cadiz, and a niece of Dr. A. S. Dabney, of Paducah, died from typhoid fever yesterday at Cadiz, after a long illness. Two infant children preceded her to the grave only a few weeks. She was only 24 years old and a most estimable young woman.

WINTER'S BLASTS.

A COLD RAIN BROUGHT OUT MANY WINTER GARMENTS THIS MORNING.

The temperature went to 51 last night, but is cooler today, and a cold rain has been falling since last night. At 7 o'clock the rainfall was nearly half an inch.

Government Observer Bornemann stated that the rain was a good thing, as it prevented frost. Frost has already been reported from some sections of the country during the week, he stated, but not enough to hurt.

IMPORTANT DECISION

THAT LAEVISON'S PALE ALE AND IRON-TONE ARE NON-INTOXICATING.

Another victory has been scored by the A. M. Laevison bottling works regarding their mild drinks. Mr. F. Melton, the well known merchant of Mayfield, Ky., who has been handling "Iron-Tone" and "Pale Ale," manufactured by A. M. Laevison and Co., was tried before Judge Webb, of Mayfield, day before yesterday on the charge of dispensing intoxicating liquors in violation of the local option law. After hearing the evidence and testing the "Pale Ale" and "Iron-Tone," Judge Webb immediately dismissed the case, and informed Mr. Melton the drinks were non-intoxicating and he could sell them at his pleasure. This is further conclusive proof added to the heretofore favorably rendered decisions holding Laevison's drinks non-intoxicating.

16,209 DEATHS FROM CHOLERA.

Cairo, Sept. 12—The weekly cholera returns for Egypt show that there have been 1,850 fresh cases reported, making totals since July 15 of 20,328 cases and 16,209 deaths.

CATARRH

The treatment of Catarrh with antiseptic and astringent washes, lotions, salves, medicated tobacco and cigarettes or any external or local application, is just as senseless as would be kindling a fire on top of the pot to make it boil. True, these give temporary relief, but the cavities and passages of the head and the bronchial tubes soon fill up again with mucus.

Taking cold is the first step towards Catarrh, for it checks perspiration, and the poisonous acids and vapors which should pass off through the skin, are thrown back upon the mucous membrane or inner skin, producing inflammation and excessive flow of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood, and through the circulation reaches every part of the system, involving the Stomach, Kidneys and other parts of the body. When the disease assumes the dry form, the breath becomes exceedingly foul, blinding headaches are frequent, the eyes red, hearing affected and a constant ringing in the ears. No remedy that does not reach the polluted blood can cure Catarrh. S. S. S. expels from the circulation all offensive matter, and when rich, pure blood is again coursing through the body the mucous membranes become healthy and the skin active, all the disagreeable, painful symptoms disappear, and a permanent, thorough cure is effected.

S. S. S. being a strictly vegetable blood purifier does not derange the Stomach and digestion, but the appetite and general health rapidly improve under its tonic effects. Write us about your case and get the best medical advice free. Book on blood and skin diseases sent on application. * THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

WHO DREW THIS PORTRAIT OF THE BARONESS?

A BOLD PLOT

Effort Made to Disgrace an Indiana Minister.

The Plot Discovered in Time and Suits for Blackmail Will Result.

Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 12—A plot against the character of the Rev. Wm. Oeschger, pastor of the First Christian church, has been unearthed here. He is secretary of the Ministerial Association and a man of vigorous and progressive ideas. Recently the association had every saloonkeeper but one in the city arrested for violations of the Nicholson law. This seemingly aroused strong enmity toward Mr. Oeschger.

Mr. Oeschger's wife is absent in California and the scheme was to trap him and have him arrested for associating with lewd women. A written contract was entered into between two men, it is claimed, by which one was to pay the other $50 to catch and arrest Oeschger and a woman other than his wife and prove that such woman was of the immoral stripe and thus bring the pastor to trial. The alleged contract was secured by the police at the resort of a woman, who gave the story away. She took the contract from one of her inmates. The latter was to have been the woman in the plot, as it is claimed, and as a book agent was to visit Mr. Oeschger at his home and at the proper time give the signal when one of the men and an officer were to appear and arrest the preacher.

One of the signers of the alleged contract is proprietor of a saloon. Mr. Oeschger has asked for police protection. Mr. Oeschger stated that charges of blackmail would be filed at once. The case has caused a big sensation.

REQUISITION FOR AMES.

BOILERS TESTED

Fires Raised at the High School Building Today.

The Exact Enrollment of the Schools to Be Known This Afternoon.

The new hot air system of heating is today being given its initial test in the High school building on West Broadway.

The boiler setting was finished several days ago, and today the fires were started and steam raised. The swallows had nested in the big chimneys and came out by the hundreds when the smoke began to issue from them. They were so thick at first that the air was really darkened for a short time. The work on the system has not yet been accepted, but will be after the test is made. The boiler is a low pressure one and all the steam condensed goes back into the boiler and it is seldom that any water is required, and the boiler is not refilled but about every two months.

This afternoon the principals of the different school buildings will hold a meeting and the exact enrollment and attendance will be summed up. Other reports will be handed in and by Monday the schools will have settled down to hard and steady work.

MANY STOVES.

TODAY THERE WAS A RUSH TO GET THEM UP AGAIN.

Today the stove men have been a busy lot. Stoves were going up all over the city, and many who wanted fires had none because there was such a rush no one could be secured to put them up.

On legal row there were several fires, and loungers found the sheriff's office more popular than usual, for there was a blazing fire all day.

Lockup Keeper Menifee had a force of men at work putting up the city hall stoves, and by night they will all be ready for use. Owing to the advance in coal, fires will come rather high this winter.

PAY CAR THE 19TH.

The I. C. pay car will arrive here on the 19th and all local employees will be paid off on that day. The car will proceed to Louisville and return through on the 21st en route south.

A CADIZ SENSATION

Six Young Men Indicted There for Murder and all Arrested.

The Grand Jury Returned the Indictments at the Present Term of Court.

NO TRIAL PROBABLE AS YET

Cadiz, Sept. 12—Six prisoners in jail under indictment for wilful murder is a part of Trigg county's criminal calendar at the present time.

Among the last indictments returned before the grand jury adjourned were against four young men of the county for the murder of Henry Ferguson near Ferguson Spring last June. Those indicted are John Ferguson, a first cousin of the murdered boy, Hardy Colson, Will Holland and Ben Oakley, the last named being a brother-in-law of John Ferguson. Ferguson and Colson were in Cadiz when the indictments were returned, and were at once arrested and their trial set for next Tuesday. Oakley was found at his home at Center Furnace and Holland was at the home of Grant Lane, where he has been living. None of them tried to escape.

Henry Ferguson, the young man they are charged with murdering, was found dead in a fence corner one Sunday morning early in June. A number of young men were charged with the offense, but after hearing the evidence in the examining trial the county judge turned all of them loose except Ferguson and Colson, who were held over under a bond of $500 each. Holland was one of the boys not held over. Oakley has never been arrested before upon the charge.

The defendants are anxious for a trial when the case is called next Tuesday, but it is not likely to be tried. R. A. Burnett and Sims and Thomas are the attorneys for the defendants. Captain John C. Dabney will assist in the prosecution.

WILL FILED.

THE LATE COLLIS P. HUNTINGTON LEAVES AN ENORMOUS ESTATE.

The will of the late Collis P. Huntington, the railroad magnate, has been admitted to probate, and shows an enormous estate. Mr. Huntington was one of the builders of the C. O. and S. W. railroad, and formerly owned much property here, but had disposed of it. The houses known as Huntington Row were named after him, but he did not own a dollar's worth of property in Paducah at the time of his death. He bequeathed many millions of dollars to his friends and relatives. He owned considerable property in the central part of the state.

He has promised them to his friends and jokingly says that he has already promised 900 persons pups.

SMALL WRECK.

An Engine Derailed Delays Passenger Trains at Gravel Switch.

Damages to Engines in Yesterday's Smash-Up About $1,000.

There was a slight wreck at Gravel Switch this morning and the fast night passenger trains Nos. 103 and 104 were delayed some little time by the accident.

The engine No. 14, pulling freight train No. 174, was derailed at that place this morning early and for some time it was impossible to clear the main line. The derailment happened at the north end of the switch and another engine was procured and the engine shoved out of the way. This morning the wrecker was sent to that place to place the engine on the track again and bring it to the city. Little damage was done.

It is estimated by the railroad machinists that the damage to the engines Nos. 604 and 668, which met in a "side swipe" yesterday morning, and also to the track, with loss of time, etc., will amount to at least $1,000. It seems from the evidence in the partial investigation that the engineer of the large engine was on the main line and that the switch was set for him and he had been given the signal to come ahead. He increased speed as he neared the switch, but did not perceive the smaller engine, as his cab sets over the end of the boiler and he could not see to his left. The smaller engine was coming on a siding to take the main line and was going at a pretty good clip. The switchman, according to reports, thought the smaller engine could make the switch first and threw it for this engine, but both struck at the same time.

RETURNED CHECK.

CAPT. CALHOUN THINKS HE CAN GET MORE FOR KENTUCKY SOLDIERS.

Frankfort, Sept. 12—Capt. C. C. Calhoun of Lexington, who is looking after Kentucky soldier and war claims before the departments at Washington, has returned to the controller of the treasury the check for $67,000 recently sent here to be distributed among the Kentucky regiments which went into the volunteer army at the outbreak of the Spanish War, and will appeal from the ruling of the auditor allowing only that amount. Capt. Calhoun, who was here today, claims that the soldiers are entitled to about $140,000. He believes that he will finally secure that amount for them. The money is due as pay and subsistence from the time the regiments were called out until they were mustered into the service of the United States. The point of difference as to the amount due is whether the soldiers are entitled to pay from the day they were called to their company headquarters or from the day they reached Camp Hamilton, at Lexington, and whether during that interval the state is entitled to collect for them at the state guard rate of $1.50 a day for privates, or the regular army pay of 52 cents a day.

A RECORD BREAKING REVIVAL. A revival has just closed at Iron-ton, Trigg county in which there was a record breaker one night. There were eight prayers and twenty songs. The Cadiz papers announce that "the best of order prevailed throughout the two weeks' meeting, and not even a pistol shot was heard to mar the proceedings."

LULA WARREN SOLD

Capt. Mc Henry Sells Her to the Messrs Barnes for $2,500.

She Will Be Repaired and Started in the Cumberland River Trade.

The little towboat Lula Warren, which has been laying up at the upper end of the island, was yesterday afternoon sold and will be run as a packet in the Cumberland river trade.

The former owner, Captain John McHenry, of the Tennessee River Towing Co., sold the craft to Messrs. John and Lou Barnes, the former mate on the steamr Dick Fowler and the latter a well known river man who has been running on the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers on towboats. The consideration was $2,500 and after the boat has been repaired and made into a passenger boat, the Messrs. Barnes will go into the Cumberland river trade. Captain McHenry said this morning that he would purchase another boat, one much larger and more powerful, as the Warren was not large enough to do the towing required by the company.

INCREASE IN WAGES.

THE LARGEST ORGANIZATION OF CONDUCTORS AND BRAKEMEN EVER FORMED.

San Francisco, Sept. 12—The Call says that the largest and most far-reaching union in the history of railroads has been recently formed by the railroad conductors and brakemen on roads operating west of Chicago. The men are dissatisfied with the present rates of wages, and will in the immediate future make a demand for an increase of salaries of 20 per cent. The Call is in a position to announce that this union will make a test case on one of the roads. The organization was perfected last June in Kansas City and W. V. Stafford, a passenger conductor of the Southern Pacific residing at Oakland, was elected its executive head. Circulars have been recently passed around among the men, and as a result every trainman has signed the request asking for the increase of 20 per cent. and making other demands. Chairman Stafford, of the executive council of the union, when seen, confirmed all of the above statements and added:

"Our organization is perfect. The circulars we have been sending out have been signed not only by myself, but by E. E. Clark, grand chief conductor of the Order of Railway Conductors, and P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Trainmen. We have every trainman in the country back of us and we will win our demand."

Manager James Adler, of the Southern Pacific, stated that he was fully aware that the organization would be perfected, but he refused to discuss the subject.

NEW Y. M. C. A. WORK

The Catalogue is 'Almost Ready for Distribution.

Indications Are That the Educational Department Will Prove Very Popular.

THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

The Y. M. C. A. catalogue is now in the hands of the printer and will be out tomorrow or Monday. Secretary Hanna intended to have the catalogue illustrated, but was unable to on account of the short time he had to get the catalogue ready for publication. It will be printed on the best of paper, and will clearly illustrate the different departments of the association, the advantages and the benefits, and will be an excellent advertisement to the association.

The educational work is featured and from present indications the night schools will be liberally patronized. The requirements of those desiring to enter the night schools are not great. They have to be members of the association, and a small additional fee is charged with the membership fee. Secretary Hanna thinks that by the expiration of fall, the membership will have attained the capacity of the class rooms. The best of teachers are being procured and the management will spare no efforts to make the schools perfect in every respect.

Secretary Hanna wishes all ladies who intend to join the women's class in athletics to telephone in their names so that the class can be made up and the names presented to the board for action. There are about fifteen at present.

Physical Director Matthis has all the gymnasium apparatus set up, and will have the regular class work begin on the 23d of this month. There will be no formal opening, the members just coming in for the regular start. He is now ready to give all applicants physical examination and would like to have all call on him as soon as possible so that he arrange his classes.

IN COUNTY COURT.

TAXES PAID BY ONE OF THE BANKS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

The First National bank paid $185.76 taxes yesterday after the case had come up in Judge Lightfoot's court. The auditor's agent recently filed suit against the bank for $1,387.65, and they confessed to that amount but claimed a credit of $1,201.89 paid under the Hewitt act, and it was allowed.

Mr. Henry Orme qualified as executor of the Orme estate.

TO SELECT NAMES.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE TO HOLD A MEETING TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

A meeting of the Democratic county committee will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the court house for the purpose of selecting names to be submitted to the election commissioners of McCracken county from which to select election officers. Chairman Morrison has requested each of the 26 precinct committeemen to send in eight Democrats in his precinct from which to select the Democratic officers.

All kinds of Building Material. Will appreciate your patronage, and guarantee prompt delivery.

DAILY THOUGHT.

Do you rightly estimate the importance of today? That there are duties to be done today which cannot be done tomorrow?

—Robertson.

A BACKWARD STEP.

The injunction suit filed today to "test the question" whether or not Paducah was legally transferred to the second class is a political move, if reports are true, to force Paducah back into the third class on a technicality and save the scalp of the mayor, who would otherwise probably be deprived of a portion of his term, and perhaps other officers.

It had been rumored for several days past that such a suit was in preparation, and that it would be in the interest of certain officials who were willing, in order to hold office
a year or two longer, to cause all this trouble, expense and confusion, force other men out of office and
drag Paducah back to the third class,
all this to be done on a mere technicality, as the bonds were repudiated
a few years ago, contrary to the wish of the people and detrimental to the welfare of the city and her fair name.

The case has not yet progressed far enough to determine fully its import,
but it seems now that it is the work of those seeking to oppose the progress of Paducah, and if possible force her back into a class in which she does not belong, and which the people wanted to leave and thought they had left forever. It is hoped that these rumors are untrue.
The people seem to be in favor, generally speaking, of Paducah's being in the second class, which is fully commensurate with her importance. They worked for it during the session of the legislature, and if they did not succeed it was not because they didn't want to, or didn't think they had accomplished what they desired. It seems that the present suit is to undo it all and entail a confusion that is as unnecessary as it is uncalled for and unpopular.

The crowd that is said to be behind
the move is one that fought the transfer to the second class, fought the effort to fill the vacancies in office as
the law requires them to be filled at the coming election, and who have feared for some time that they or their friends would be put out of office

next year, instead of two years hence. It appears they have saved
this as their trump card.

It is to be hoped that the suit will be thrown out of court, and the city be allowed to proceed on her way to progress, completely routing the dis-semblers who allege they are doing it in the interest of the city and her people. This is not intended to mean the councilmen who brought the suit. They may have unsuspectingly fallen victims to the other crowd,
and been made cat's-paws of.

KICKING TO SOME PURPOSE.

An eastern paper has come out flat-footed for chronic kicking, when it is kicking for a purpose, and thinks a little kicking is good for both the fellow who kicks and the general public,
and one who constantly complains is better than the mild-mannered fellow who never has anything to say. It urges everybody, however to kick to some purpose, or not at all.

It advises citizens to take a lively interest in the government of their neighborhood and city, and see that it is as good as it can possibly be made. No one man has a right to regulate the affairs of a neighborhood,
but he has as much say as anyone else,
and if he takes no part in the management of affairs, and every other good citizen does likewise, such management will be left to a few and they may be unworthy persons.

Speaking of protesting, it says:
"First, be sure of the law on the matter. Never write a letter or utter a public protest until you are sure you are within your rights as bounded by the laws of your state. You will be amazed at the excellence of your laws
and ordinances and the criminal laxness of their enforcement. And here is an excellent place to suggest that women inform themselves on the subject of law, inasmuch as it affects their own lives. Let them study municipal law in particular and instruct their girls as well as their boys on the ordinances governing their own city. Most of the things which harass and annoy you could be done away with if you only knew how well you are protected by law. But not enforced, you say? Well, whose fault is it but yours? You have influence. Use it. See to it that deafening noises and foul odors and unhealthy practices are stopped."

It gives a little personal advice, as follows:

"But, before you attempt to cast
out the mote from the public eye, reflect a little for fear the beam of selfishness is in your own eye. Are you maintaining a public nuisance? Do you practice on your piano before other people are up and after they have gone to bed? Is your husband learning to play the flute? Are your children allowed to run wild and whoop and yell, regardless of the woman who is writing a book in the apartment above you? Do you keep a dog and does he bark with sheer dog spirits and the delight of living,
and do you encourage him in it, regardless of the poor spinster within hearing who hates curs?

"Have you built your house out of line, so that it cuts off your neighbor's view? Have you built a spite fence? Do you race your automobile along public highways frightening horses and causing accidents to gratify your own selfishness? If you do any of these things you are not a good citizen. If your husband does them, and you do not try to influence him
to desist, you are not a good citizen.
If you are not training your boys and girls in thoughtfulness and consideration to their neighbors and friends; if you do not train them to stand up for their rights and to demand that when good laws are enacted they shall be enforced by the weight of a persevering public opinion, you are lacking both as mother and as good citizen; you are not doing your duty to your children or to your country or to yourself."

Another effort is to be made to settle the coal strike Saturday. The people have learned a valuable lesson from

this strike, and it is that usually disinterested persons have to suffer from them. The strikers seem to be satisfied, the operators are not complaining and if very anxious for the strike to end would end it, but the poor women and children have to suffer from a curtailment of the necessities of life, and the consumers of anthracite coal all over the country lose because of the price and shortage of coal, and many factories have had to shut down, throwing hundreds of men out of employment.

The Prohibition party in New York has introduced a proposition to tax
every man who drinks intoxicating beverages $5 a year, a regular license to be taken out. Every six months the names of those having license to take a drink are to be published. That may go in New York, but it would never do in Kentucky. Instead of acting as a discouragement, every man who takes a social drink would have to have a $5 license, and he would then want to take a drink every time he had a chance, to get his money's worth.

It is claimed by competent authorities that it would take five miles of elevated track to have the desired height of railroad track at the Tennessee street crossing. The best solution of the crossing problem is to have automatic gates put up and electric lights there at night. Tennessee street is not entitled to any more protection than any other crossing, and there is no more necessity for its having more than other crossings.

The fight over the railroad right of way seems to have ended. The decisions of Circuit Judge Husbands and County Judge Lightfoot seem to be regarded as able interpretations of the law. As to Appellate Judge White's reversal in which the injunction was dissolved, it can be best described as it was when it was read to a prominent attorney here. When it was finished the attorney laughed and said:
"Oh, shucks!"

The Russians have ordered foreigners to evacuate Manchuria. This is directed especially against the British,
but excludes them all. It is not thought that there are any Americans in the territory, but if there are it is believed they will be allowed to remain, as Russia is not disposed to be unfriendly with this government.

The Cuban loan bill has passed the house. They want $35,000,000 and it is supposed we shall have to let them have it. We'll finally gobble up the island, however, so we shall probably get it all back in due time.

Nobody is anxious to run for alderman on the Democratic ticket. They probably remember the $1.85 tax rate and know better. The handwriting stands out in bold relief on the wall.

When the town cow is laid on the shelf this month by a vote of the people, and the bond question is carried in November, it can indeed be said that Paducah is getting on.

Up in Illinois they are having a hot time over the alleged crooked disposition of state campaign funds. In Kentucky they were not so unlucky. It was all smoothed over here.

A Mayfield man who had 800 days
to serve on the chain gang escaped.
He probably can't be blamed, as 800 days is a pretty long time to have to stay in Mayfield.

If the "trusts" are made an issue it will not help the Democrats any. The Republicans have already begun their fight on them.

Mr. W. J. Bryan, along with other extinct volcanoes, is resuming activity.

The latest is the candy trust. A sweet state of affairs!

lar with all who knew him.

THIS MAY CREATE CHAOS

Councilmen Sue Out Injunction Against the Board of Aldermen.

It is Claimed By Them That Paducah is Not Legally a City of the Second Class.

A suit of unusual importance and far reaching significance was filed in circuit court this morning by Councilmen J. H. Fowler, Ed Woolfolk and W. P. Hummel against Mayor D.
A. Yeiser, President Ed P. Noble, of
the board of aldermen, and the members of the latter board, enjoining the mayor from appointing an alderman to fill the remaining vacancy in the board, and enjoining the members of the board of aldermen from further participation in the municipal government of Paducah, on the grounds that Paducah is not a second class city.

The suit was filed by Attorneys Lightfoot and Yonts, of Paducah,
and former Justice of the court of appeals, W. S. Pryor, of Frankfort, and this afternoon a motion will be made before Judge Husbands by the attorneys for a temporary injunction. The news of the suit was in the nature of a bomb, and created quite a sensation, owing to the inestimable confusion
that may result from it.

The injunction, briefly speaking, is based on the grounds that the bill passed by the last legislature transferring Paducah into the second class was irregular, incomplete and illegal and that a census to determine the number of inhabitants should have been taken after the passage of such a bill, instead of before.

It is alleged that the census here was taken before, and further that the bill is very incomplete and should state explicitly which officers were to serve after the transfer from the third
to the second class until the workings under the second class charter were in operation.

On these technicalities it is sought
to force Paducah back into the third class.

Councilman Woolfolk stated that the suit was only to settle for all time to come before the city became further involved, the question of whether the transfer was legal or not.

Councilman Fowler, when seen by a reporter made the same statement.

Councilman Hummel was more explicit. He said in substance:

"It is nothing more than a suit to determine for all time to come whether or not the city is in the second class. It is a friendly suit between the council and the mayor and aldermen to get the matter before the courts and have it passed on there,
and let us know exactly where we stand."

"The questions of improvement
bonds and of an election this fall,
have been up for discussion, and it is our desire to have these questions settled at once in order that we may proceed intelligently and legally."

"Some time ago it was generally agreed among local lawyers whom we consulted that an opinion from Judge Pryor, formerly of the court of appeals, would be regarded as able
and representative opinion as we could get. They said they would be willing to accept whatever he said as
law. We sent and secured his opinion in the matter."

"What was his opinion?" the reporter asked.

"Why," replied Councilman Hummel, "He said that Paducah was still in the third class, in his opinion, as the bill making the transfer did not conform to the constitutional requirements. We then decided to institute this suit in order to have the court
pass on the question and settle it
now, before we have gone any farther,
so we can hold the election in November if we are in the second class, and so we will feel safe should the bond proposition carry."

The question of granting a temporary injunction will come up before Circuit Judge Husbands this afternoon, and if it is granted, it will put

a quietus on the board of aldermen until the motion for a permanent injunction comes up, which may be at any time the court fixes. It will then be made perpetual or dissolved, and thus end the case or take it to the judge of the court of appeals.

In the meantime it will not be known whether certain local officers appointed under the second class charter are holding office legally or not,
which of their acts, if any, were legal and binding, and whether there is to be an election in November or not.
In fact, the effect of this litigation, begun in a "friendly spirit" may be far reaching, and there is no telling where it will end.

The general impression is that the suit was brought as a political move
to force Paducah back into the third class in order that certain officers may hold on, and restore them to their former power.

There has never been raised any question as to the technical regularity of the city's transfer from the third to the second class, and everybody seemed to be satisfied with the way it was done, and had never raised any question about it. It would probably never have been thought of
if it hadn't been for the suit now filed.

The suit has been the topic of conversation everywhere this afternoon.
No one had ever heard any doubt expressed as to the legality of the transfer, and no one cared. One lawyer said:

"If the suit is sustained, it will simply ruin the city. All the money collected by officers will have to be paid back, the last assessment will be illegal and every cent of taxes have to be returned and to make a long story short, the city will be bankrupt."

"The fact that some of the men who were opposed to Paducah's going into the second class are defendants in the suit make it extremely probable that they would not fight the case should the injunction be sustained. It would suit them exactly, and the people would have no redress."

It has been suggested many times
today since the facts became known that the Commercial club be called together at once and take steps to employ some able attorney to protect the city and the people in the suit
and fight it out to the last ditch.

Mayor Yeiser was this afternoon

seen relative to the injunction and asked what he thought about the action taken by the councilmen.

"Here is the whole matter summed up," he replied. "In discussing the fall elections we decided to ask Judge Pryor his opinion as to the legality of the elections, if they were held.
There had been some doubt, you understand, to the transfer of the city into the second class, and to settle this we asked Judge Pryor his opinion, regardless of who it would hurt. He replied in general and stated that the elections would be illegal, as the transfer of the city into cities of the second class was illegal. We then decided to bring the suit and let the court settle the matter."

He further stated that the street improvements and other improvements that would soon be made are made under an entirely different way than in cities of the second class and to avoid all complications and litigation
the suit was brought.

Judge Lightfoot said this afternoon
that the injunction would not be presented this afternoon but probably in the morning, the first thing after convening court.

A CHARM FROM AN OLD GRAVE.

Negro Supposed to Have Cut Off the Hand of a Dead Man.

One of the most mysterious cases of negro superstition has just come to light near Adairsville, Ga. The grave of Godfrey Barnesly, who has been buried for more than thirty years, was found opened and his right hand had been cut off, evidently by a negro for the purpose of obtaining the first joint of the middle finger as a charm.
It was first thought the motive might have been robbery, as there were stories around to the effect that Barnesly had been buried with a lot of money and jewelry. Relatives, however, say this was not the case.

Indeed, upon investigation the body seemed not to have been tampered with except in the cutting off of the hand. It was in a fairly good state of preservation, except that the flesh,
of course, had withered away and crumbled to dust. The hand, however, was missing, and it is explained
on the theory of the negro superstition that if a person carries always with him the first joint of the middle finger of a man who has been buried
he will never be arrested, no matter what crime he may commit.

Circumstantial evidence points strongly toward a negro who has been loafing around Adairsville for some time. He borrowed a wrap recently from a friend for the purpose of attending to some work, as he said. When the wrap was returned it contained red mud. An examination shows it was practically the same as
that found in the grave.

A Simple Change

The little daughter of the house
watched the minister who was making a visit very closely, and finally sat down beside him and began to draw on her slate.

"What are you doing?" asked the clergyman.

"I'm making your picture," said the child.

The minister sat very still, and the child worked away earnestly. They she stopped and compared her work with the original, and shook her head.

"I don't like it much," she said.
"Tain't a great deal like you. I guess I'll put a tail to it and call it a dog."

SLOT MACHINE PHOTOGRAPHY.

A machine that will take your photograph, develop it, and present it to you in a frame, with a pin attached to the back for affixing it to a garment—all in two minutes by the watch—will soon be installed in every railway station of importance and in other public places where a harvest of nickels is to be gathered.

You drop a nickel in the slot, and then detach from the machine a handle, which retains connection with the apparatus by a wire. Then you sit down in a chair, still holding the handle, and observe yourself in a small mirror placed for that purpose in the front of the machine. When you have the proper attitude and expression you press a button in the handle and immediately a brilliant electric light is flashed upon you. At the same time a bell rings and continues to ring while the exposure lasts.

The exposure is only about two seconds, during which, of course, you are expected to stay perfectly still. You may then get up from the chair and relinquish the handle, inasmuch as the machine will do the rest. The plate which has been exposed is automatically immersed in a developing bath, where it remains for five seconds. Out of this it slides into a fixing bath, where it lies for 25 seconds. Then it goes into a chemical wash for a few more seconds and, emerging therefrom, is almost instantly presented to you, framed as aforesaid, and with a pin at the back.

Of course, the plate is developed not as a negative, but as a positive. Furthermore, it is already contained in its little frame, with a pin attached, when it is put into the machine. Hence no time is lost in supplying the frame with the portrait, and the latter is produced complete inside of two minutes. The chemical wash which succeeds the fixing bath is, of necessity, a prompt drier.

This novelty is the invention of a Cleveland man, and is expected to earn a big fortune for the manufacturers, who are turning out the machines by thousands at the present time, confident of a jingling shower of five cent pieces.

A SIMPLE CHANGE.

MADE A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE.

The health resort does not always bring back health, but the health resort and proper food make a pretty sure combination.

Mrs. E. Kennett, Springfield, Mo., writes: "I was pronounced a consumptive and sent to Asheville, N. C., for my health. I just could not eat without a cup of coffee, and my stomach was in such a condition that I could not drink it. I was almost in despair when the landlady of my boarding house said that if I would drink Postum Food Coffee I would find it would take the place of coffee and agree with me. She made it so delicious that I enjoyed every meal I ate, and gained in flesh and strength so rapidly that I was able to come back home and live.

"I give Postum more credit for my return to health than climate or anything else. I am sending you this letter for the benefit of those who are having a hard time living, and I am sure that if they will use Postum their lives will be prolonged."

—It was stated in a contemporary that the railroad right of way judgments would all be paid by the railroad company but the attorneys for the railroad company denied this today and stated that the matter had been placed in the hands of Judge Pirtle, the railroad district attorney, and that he had not yet decided the matter.

Chip of the Old Block.

When the Boer war broke out Eliot Kruger, the grandnephew of the president of the Transvaal, was a medical student in Edinburgh. He went to make a holiday at beautiful Glendalough, in County Wicklow, Ireland. One day, while boating on the upper lake, he espied a sheep on a ledge of rock far up the steep side of Mount Comaderry. The poor thing could neither go up nor down, and was bound to die of starvation. Rather than this should happen the cotters had resolved to shoot it. Then young Kruger appeared on the scene. He determined to rescue the sheep. Covering the soles of his boots with tanned twine, he climbed up the face of the precipice. After two hours' work, in which his life was in constant peril, he thought he would have to give it up. However, making one more effort, he reached the sheep at last and lowered it by rope into the boat. The sheep having been saved, he packed up his traps and set sail for the Cape to take part in the defense of his native soil.

TO HAVE A CITY TICKET

The Republican Committee Met Last Night and Decided to Have One.

A Mass Convention Will be Held at the City Hall Tuesday, September 30.

CAMPAIGN TO BE STARTED

The Republican city committee met last night with six of the nine members present, and discussed the advisability of having a ticket of municipal candidates for the November election.

The matter was thoroughly talked over, and it was unanimously thought advisable to have out candidates for the eight offices of aldermen for city jailer, treasurer and a member of the school board.

A mass convention was decided on for Tuesday, September 30, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. at the city hall, where the nominations will be made.

A great deal of enthusiasm was shown, it being the general opinion that the Republicans could not stand a better show for the local offices. The city government has been in such a turmoil, and is now in such a state of confusion and uncertainty that the voters are thoroughly disgusted, and with a ticket of good men the gang will be wiped out in November.

FIENDISH CRIME.

ROBBED 200 PILGRIMS AND FIRED THE BUILDING IN WHICH THEY SLEPT.

London, Sep. 12.—In a dispatch from Vienna the correspondent of the Daily Express describes a fiendish crime which has been committed at Maria Rabna, in Hungary.

Two hundred pilgrims were journeying to the shrine of the Virgin. They were unable to find other lodgings and spent the night in a barn. A body of Walachian gypsies appeared on the scene and robbed the sleeping pilgrims; they then set fire to the barn and an indescribable panic ensued. Eight of the pilgrims were burned to death, nine were seriously injured and many of them were crushed.

DIED IN ALLENSVILLE.

Mrs. Mary E. Anderson died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Slaughter, at Allensville, Ky., after a long illness.

She was 78 years old and a former resident of this county, having left McCracken about a year ago. Her father, the late George Dunn, was the first jailer McCracken county ever had. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Slaughter and Mrs. Anderson, and three step-sons, Norton B. Anderson, Platte City, Mo.; E. L. Anderson, of Joplin, Mo.; and W. T. Anderson, of Paducah. The remains will reach the city at 3:35 this afternoon and be buried at Oak Grove, services by Rev. G. W. Briggs.

21 YEARS A DYSPPEPTIC.

R. H. Foster, 318 South Second street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years; tried many doctors without relief; recently I got a bottle of Herbine. One bottle cured me, I am now tapering off on the second. I have recommended it to my friends; it is curing them, too." 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

DEVoured BY WORMS.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

KIDNAPPED

THE ADVENTURES OF DAVID BALFOUR IN THE YEAR 1751 BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

I was at the edge of the upper wood, and so now, when I halted and looked back, I saw all the open part of the hill below me. The lawyer and the sheriff's officer were standing just above the road, crying and waving on me to come back, and on their left the redcoats, musket in hand, were beginning to struggle singly out of the lower wood.

"Why should I come back?" I cried. "Come you on!"

"Ten pounds if ye take that lad!" cried the lawyer. "He's an accomplice. He was posted here to hold us in talk."

At that word (which I could hear quite plainly, though it was to the soldiers and not to me that he was crying it) my heart came in my mouth with quite a new kind of terror. Indeed it is one thing to stand the danger of your life and quite another to run the peril of both life and character. The thing, besides, had come so suddenly, like thunder out of a clear sky, that I was all amazed and helpless.

The soldiers began to spread, some of them to run and others to put up their pieces and cover me, and still I stood.

"Jouk [duck] in here among the trees," said a voice close by.

Indeed I scarce knew what I was doing, but I obeyed, and as I did so I heard the firelocks bang and the balls whistle in the birches.

Just inside the shelter of the trees I found Alaa Breck standing, with a fishing rod. He gave me no salutation; indeed it was no time for civilities; only "Come!" said he, and setting off running along the side of the mountain toward Balachulish, and I, like a sheep, to follow him.

Now we ran among the birches, now stooping behind low humps upon the mountain side, now crawling upon all fours among the heather. The pace was deadly; my heart seemed bursting against my ribs, and I had neither time to think nor breath to speak with. Only I remember seeing with wonder that Alan every now and then would straighten himself to his full height and look back, and every time he did so there came a great faraway cheering and crying of the soldiers.

Quarter of an hour later Alan stopped, clapped down flat in the heather, and turned to me.

"Now," said he, "it's earnest. Do as I do for your life."

And at the same speed, but now with infinitely more precaution, we traced back again across the mountain side by the same way that we had come, only perhaps higher, till at last Alan threw himself down in the upper wood of Lettermore, where I had found him at the first, and lay with his face in the bracken, panting like a dog.

My own sides so ached, my head so swam, my tongue so hung out of my mouth with heat and dryness that I lay beside him like one dead.

CHAPTER XVII.

I TALK WITH ALAN IN THE WOOD OF LETTERMORE.

"I thank God for that!" cried I.

Alan was the first to come around. He rose, went to the border of the wood, peered out a little, and then returned and sat down.

"Well," said he, "yon was a hot burst, David."

I said nothing, nor as much as lifted my face. I had seen murder done and a great, ruddy, jovial gentleman struck out of life in a moment. The pity of that sight was still sore within me, and yet that was but a part of my concern. Here was murder done upon the man Alan hated. Here was Alan skulking in the trees and running from the troops, and whether his was the hand that fired or only the head that ordered, signified but little. By my way of it, my only friend in that wild country was blood guilty in the first degree; I held him in horror; I could not look upon his face; I would have rather lain alone in the rain on my cold side than in that warm wood beside a murderer.

"Are ye still wearied?" he asked again. "No," said I, still with my face in the bracken; "no, I am not wearied now and I can speak. You and me must twine" (part), I said. "I liked you very well, Alan, but your ways are not mine and they're not God's, and the short and the long of it is just that we must twine."

"I will hardly twine from ye, David, without some kind of reason for the same," said Alan, mightily gravely. "If ye ken anything against my reputation, it's the least thing that ye should do, for old acquaintance sake, to let me hear the name of it, and if ye have only taken a distaste to my society it will be proper for me to judge if I'm insulted."

"Alan," said I, "what is the sense of this? Ye ken very well yon Campbell man lies in his blood upon the road. Do you mean you had no hand in it?"

"I will tell you first of all, Mr. Balfour, of Shaws, as one friend to another," said Alan, "that if I were going to kill a gentleman I would not be in my own country, to bring trouble on my clan. I would not go wanting sword and gun, and with a long fishing rod upon my back."

"Well," said I, "that's true!"

"And now," continued Alan, taking out his dirk and laying his hand upon it in a certain manner, "I swear upon the holy iron I had neither art nor part, act nor thought in it."

"I thank God for that!" cried I, and offered him my hand.

He did not appear to see it. "And here is a great deal of work about a Campbell!" said he. "They are not so scarce that I ken!"

"At least," said I, "you cannot justly blame me, for you know very well what you told me in the brig; but the temptation and the act are different. I thank God again for that. We may all be tempted; but to take a life in cold blood, Alan! And I could say no more for the moment. And do you know who did it?" I added, "Do you know that man in the black coat?"

"I have nae clear mind about his coat," said Alan cunningly; "but it sticks in my head that it was blue."

"Blue or black, did ye know him?" said I.

"I couldnae just conscientiously swear to him," says Alan. "He gaed very close by me, to be sure, but it's a strange thing that I should just have been tying my brogues."

"Can you swear that you don't know him, Alan?" I cried half angered, half in a mind to laugh at his evasions.

"Not yet," says he, "but I've a grand memory for forgetting, David."

"And yet there was one thing I saw clearly," said I, "and that was that you exposed yourself and me to draw the soldiers."

"It's very likely," said Alan, "and so would any gentleman. You and me were innocent of that transaction."

"The better reason, since ye were fairly suspected, that we should get clear," I cried. "The innocent should surely come before the guilty."

"Why, David," said he, "the innocent have aye a chance to get assailed in court; but for the lad that shot the bullet, I think the best place for him will be the heather. Then that have nae dipped their hands in any little difficulty should be very mindful of the case of them that have. And that is the good Christianity. For if it was the other way round about, and the lad whom I couldnae just clearly see had been in our shoes and we in his (as might very well have been), I think we would be a good deal obliged to him ourself if he would draw the soldiers."

When it came to this I gave Alan up. But he looked so innocent all the time, and was in such clear good faith in what he said, and so ready to sacrifice himself for what he deemed his duty, that my mouth was closed. Mr. Henderland's words came back to me—that we ourselves might take a lesson by these wild highlanders. Well, here I had taken mine. Alan's morals were all tail first; but he was ready to give his life for them, such as they were.

"Alan," said I, "I'll not say it's the good Christianity as I understand it, but it's good enough. And here I offer ye my hand for the second time."

Whereupon he gave me both of his, saying surely I had cast a spell upon him, for he could forgive me anything. Then he grew very grave, and said we had not much time to throw away, but must both flee that country, he because he was a deserter, and the whole of Appin would now be searched like a chamber and every one obliged to give a good account of himself, and I because I was certainly involved in the murder.

"Oh," says I, willing to give him a little lesson, "I have no fear of the justice of my country."

"As if this was your country!" said he, "Or as if ye would be tried here, in a country of Stewarts!"

"It's all Scotland," said I.

"Man, I whiles wonder at ye," said Alan. "This is a Campbell that's been killed. Well, it'll be tried in Inverara, the Campbell's head place, with fifteen Campbells in the jury box, and the biggest Campbell of all (and that's the duke) sitting cocking on the bench. Justice, David? The same justice, by all the world, as Glenure found awhile ago at the roadside."

This frightened me a little, I confess. I asked him whither we should flee, and as he told me "to the lowlands," I was a little better inclined to go with him, for indeed I was growing impatient to get back and have the upper hand of my uncle. Besides, Alan made so sure there would be no question of justice in the matter that I began to be afraid he might be right. Of all deaths I would truly like least to die by the gallows, and the picture of that uncanny instrument came into my head with extraordinary clearness (as I had once seen it engraved at the top of a peddler's ballad) and took away my appetite for courts of justice.

"I'll chance it, Alan," said I. "I'll go with you."

"But mind you," said Alan, "it's no small thing. Ye maun lie bare and hard and brook many an empty belly. Your bed shall be the moorcock's, and your life shall be like the hunted deer's, and ye shall sleep with your hand upon your weapon. Aye, man, ye shall taigle many a weary foot or we get clear. I tell ye this at the start, for it's a life that I ken well. But if ye ask what other chance ye have I answer nae. Either take to the heather with me or else hang."

"And that's a choice very easily made," said I, and we shook hands upon it.

"And now let's take another keek at the redcoats," says Alan, and he led me to the northeastern fringe of the wood.

Looking out between the trees we could see a great side of mountain running down exceeding steep into the waters of the loch. It was a rough part, all hanging stone and heather and ble scraggs of birchwood; and away at the far end toward Balachulish, little wee red soldiers were dipping up and down over hill and howe, and growing smaller every minute. There was no cheering now, for I think they had other uses for what breath was left them, but they still stuck to the trail and doubtless thought that we were close in front of them.

Alan watched them, smiling to himself.

"Aye," said he, "they'll be gay weary before they've got to the end of that trail! And so you and me, David, can sit down and eat a bite and breathe a bit longer and take a dram from my bottle. Then we'll strike for Aucharn, the house of my kinsman, James of the Glens, where I must get my clothes and my arms and money to carry us along, and then, David, we'll cry 'Forth, Fortune!' and take a cast among the heatherr."

So we sat again and eat and drank in a place whence we could see the sun going down into a field of great, wild and houseless mountains, such as I was now condemned to wander in with my companion. Partly as we so sat and partly afterward, on the way to Aucharn, each of us narrated his adventures; and I shall here set down so much of Alan's as seems either curious or needful.

It appears he ran to the bulwarks as soon as the wave was passed, saw me and lost me, and saw me again as I tumbled in the roost, and at last had one glimpse of me clinging on the yard. It was this that put him in some hope I would maybe get to land after all and made him leave these clues and messages which had brought me (for my sins) to that unlucky country of Appin.

In the meanwhile those still on the brig had got the skiff launched and one or two were on board of her already, when there came a second wave greater than the first, and heaved the brig out of her place, and would certainly have sent her to the bottom had she not struck and caught on some projection of the reef. When she had struck first, it had been bows on, so that the stern had hitherto been lowest. But now her stern was thrown in the air and the bows plunged under the sea, and with that the water began to pour into the fore scuttle like the pouring of a milldam.

It took the color out of Alan's face, even to tell what followed. For there were still two men lying impotent in their bunks, and these, seeing the water pour in and thinking the ship had foundered, began to cry out aloud, and that with such harrowing cries that all who were on deck tumbled one after another into the skiff and fell to their oars. They were not two hundred yards away when there came a third great sea, and at that the brig lifted clean over the reef, her canvas filled for a moment, and she seemed to sail in chase of them, but setting all the while; and presently she drew down and down, as if a hand was drawing her, and the sea closed over the Covenant of Dryart.

CIRCUIT COURT

the Fuqua Case is Unable to Agree.

Three Convictions This Morning and Afternoon for Short Terms.

The jury in the case against Lonnie Fuqua, colored, charged with murder, seems to be unable to agree. It was hung at press time, having had the case since yesterday afternoon late. The principal in the case, it will be remembered, Spot Polk, pleaded guilty and was given a life sentence.

Alley Jackson, colored, who was arraigned for the theft of $20 from the Yeiser and McElrath drug store cash drawer, has a bad memory, and although it was positively known by the commonwealth attorneys that he had served a four year term in the Tennessee penitentiary for stealing, he did not remember today, whether or not he had ever seen a penitentiary before. The attorneys tried to refresh his memory, but were unable to do so. He obstinately stuck to the failing memory dodge and his record was shown him, but still he did not remember.

Jackson was found guilty by the jury and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The grand jury returned indictments against the following, whose cases are set for the days named: William Monrow, grand larceny, twelfth day; Lulu Starks, malicious shooting, thirteenth day; Hattie Taylor, grand larceny, thirteenth day.

Will Pryor, the well known colored "drum major," was given two years for malicious assault on Frank Walston, whom he struck in the head and came near killing several months ago.

The case against Eli Hutchinson, charged with killing George Gray, is set for the 15th day of the term. He has been in jail for several months.

At press time this afternoon the house-breaking case against Robert Skillian was called.

Columbus Carroll, colored, for obtaining money by false pretenses, was given one year.

J. G. Switzer was placed on the grand jury in place of J. L. Bethshires, excused.

Will Pryor was indicted for malicious shooting, and Alfred Strauss for stealing $25 from Quarles' saloon.

Jerry Davis, colored, was given one year for grand larceny.

RAILROAD DEAL.

REPORTED THE SOUTHERN MAY GET THE Q. AND O.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 12.—The Southern railway is negotiating for the purchase of the Queen and Crescent system. President Spencer of the Southern is now in England, and it is reliably stated that the direct object of his visit is to effect the purchase of the line, which will give the system entrance into New Orleans over its own rails. The Queen and Crescent is an English owned road. Its stockholders all live in England, or at least a controlling interest of the stock is held in that country.

KNOUT FOR GIRL BABIES.

London, Sept. 12.—In a dispatch from St. Petersburg the correspondent of the Daily Mail relates that the commander of the Cossack station at Wertschink, anxious that his district should show a preponderance of males, has ordered that the father of every girl baby born in the district shall receive fifty strokes with the knout. Several men, says the correspondent, have already been knouted under this ruling.

LATE ARRESTS.

W. O. Allen, white, was arrested by Officers Eter and Miller for drunkenness and John Williams, colored, by Officer Miller for shooting a Robert rifle inside the city limits.

SHEPHERD ILL.

MAN WHO MADE MODERN WASHINGTON DYING IN MEXICO.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Private telegrams received here today and late last night announce that Alexander Shepherd, who was vice president of the board of public works of the District of Columbia during the territorial government of the district in 1871, and who was two years later governor of the district, is very seriously ill with intestinal trouble at his home in Batopilas, Mexico. Mrs. Shepherd and Dr. and Mrs. Merchant, the latter a daughter of the former governor, left today for Batopilas.

FROST PREDICTED.

IT IS TOO WET, HOWEVER, TO DO ANY HARM TONIGHT.

The indications are for clear and cooler weather, with frost tonight. Observer Bornemann, however, states that if there is frost the ground is too wet for it to do any harm.

The weather predictions are: For Kentucky: Rain in the east, fair in the west portion tonight, cooler with probably a light frost. Saturday fair and continued cooler.
